

Associate Service Award Recipient

Initiated in 1986, the Associate Service Award is given to individuals in recognition of a life devoted to the construction industry. The CCA associate members not only provide their products and services in order to “make a sale”, they assist in the construction of the necessities that improve our quality of life. These men and women are, at times, invaluable resources to the contractor in getting the job completed on time and on schedule. These dedicated professionals also contribute a great deal of time, energy and resources to make CCA a better, stronger and more effective organization. The Associate Service Award and Associate of the Year are to recognize those who go above and beyond for the good of the industry.

Associate of the Year

Initiated in 1986, the Associate of the Year Award is given to individuals who support the objectives of the associate members, participate and encourage participation in CCA as well as provide goods and/or services to the construction industry. Award recipients identify strongly and are willing to educate and promote the construction industry, have expertise in their field and practice sound business ethics.

Industry Pioneers

The Pioneer awards are given to those individuals in recognition for years of service and in some cases for a lifetime of devotion to the betterment of our industry and our Association.

Contractor of the Year

The Contractor of the Year was initiated in 1964 in recognition of an individual who has made a difference during the past year providing significant contributions. This is the highest of CCA honors.